

Karagiannis Theodoros was born in Thessaloniki, Greece in 2000. Since 2018 he studies in Electrical & Electronics Engineering Department, Engineering School at University of West Attica. He is a founding member and manager of Diagnosis Multisystems, a private SME, specializing in nondestructive testing systems. He is a student member of IEEE and the IEEE Engineering in Medicine & Biology Society. He has attended seminars on “Special practices on the ISO 17025:2017” by the Hellenic Institute of Metrology.

Key publications:

1. G. Karagiannis, T. Karamanos, E. Athanasopoulos, K. Panayiotou, S. Amanatiadis, G. Apostolidis and Theodoros Karagiannis, "Development of an iTomography infrastructure for non-destructive documentation of cultural heritage objects," 2018 IEEE International Conference on Imaging Systems and Techniques (IST), Krakow, 2018, pp. 1-6, doi: 10.1109/IST.2018.8577171.